

boulevard The linear spine creates an efficient and visually appealing parking scenario, while linking the park elements. The turf slope creates a grade separation and an informal seating area for athletic events. The trail system strategically connects the different park elements and the adjacent greenways.

