

promenade

A pedestrian promenade will connect the east and west sides of the park at the convergence of Dry Creek and Clover Basin Irrigation Ditch. The promenade is a flexible space, able to accommodate day to day use along with the occasional festival events. Integrating water throughout the park in a variety of ways will add a unique and memorable experience.

